To whom it may concern,

In the last five years that I have been associated with the Moss Vale & District A H & I Society we have tried five different security firms & up until we engaged A I S M security we had not been happy with any of them.

A I S M security have proved to be a very professional group of people, from the Principal right down to the guards. They provided valuable advice right up front & supplied a complete document on how they were going to manage all security facets of our event.

Our annual show is probably the largest event in the Southern highlands of New South Wales, with in excess of 15,000 people usually attending our event over a three day period. In previous years we have encountered problems with unacceptable behaviour from some teenage groups, but this year there was none of that. I believe that was directly attributed to the way A I S M managed security on our site.

They had a site supervisor on site at all times that was easily contactable and was willing to help with any request immediately. It was truly a pleasure to work with a group of people that went out of their way to help with any request made of them.

I would certainly not have any hesitation in recommending A I S M security for any security function that they choose to complete. There will be no doubt on who will be doing our security for our next event.

Brian Spence
